PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Podcast producer, host, and interviewer with 400+ recorded episodes across multiple shows and projects since 2016, from guest-driven interview shows and solo storytelling to documentary-style series and current long-form video interviews. Independently handle the full production cycle: concept development, guest research, outreach and booking, interview preparation, hosting, recording, audio and video editing, publishing, distribution, and content repurposing. Formally trained in audio engineering at The Recording Workshop, followed by two recording-studio internships. Twenty years of Las Vegas luxury hospitality, recruiting, and business development (Four Seasons, ARIA, and organizations totaling 900+ agents) bring the guest side of production: preparing people, putting them at ease, and following through.

PODCAST PRODUCTION EXPERIENCE

Independent Podcast Producer, Host & Interviewer | Las Vegas, NV

2016 - Present

- Created, produced, hosted, and published 400+ podcast episodes across multiple shows and projects, spanning guest-driven interviews, solo storytelling, documentary-style episodic content, and long-form video interviews
- Owned the full production cycle: concept development, guest identification and research, outreach, booking and scheduling, interview preparation and question development, hosting, recording, editing, publishing, and distribution
- Moved production from audio-only to video podcast and video content, recording in person and remotely

simpliSpeaking | Host & Producer

2026 - Present

- Produce and host long-form video interviews, including a conversation with Lisa Harris ("From Single Mom to Real Estate Leader | Lisa Harris' 24-Year Journey") exploring single motherhood, career building, leadership, and mentorship

Learn For 2 / Learn For 2.0 | Creator, Host & Producer

2019 - 2020; Relaunched 2026

- Produced approximately 275 episodes during the original run, combining frequent solo storytelling episodes with guest interviews featuring marathon runners, leaders of large real estate teams, and New York Yankees catching coach Tanner Swanson
- Launched as an audio-only podcast using Audio-Technica ATR2100 microphones and a Zoom H4n recorder, personally recording and editing every episode
- Expanded the show into video, then relaunched it in 2026 with a documented production workflow running from recording and transcript through editorial revision and distribution
- Repurpose each long-form episode into YouTube videos with descriptions and chapters, written stories and blog posts, Shorts, social posts, and thumbnail concepts

Summerlin Advice Givers | Creator, Host & Producer

2016 - 2017

- Produced a 36-episode interview podcast featuring Las Vegas-area entrepreneurs, business owners, and community figures from a wide range of fields, including urban farmers, chiropractors, coffee roasters, home inspectors, and substance abuse rehabilitation professionals
- Personally identified, researched, contacted, booked, and scheduled guests, then developed interview questions and prepared for each conversation
- Hosted, recorded, edited, and published every episode

Authentic Agent Resource | Creator, Host & Producer

2022

- Created and hosted a guest-driven interview podcast, handling guest outreach, booking, interview preparation, recording, and publishing

My Epique Journey / The Journey | Creator, Host & Producer

2024 - 2025

- Produced 100+ documentary-style episodes chronicling a real-time entrepreneurial rebuilding journey, using recurring episodes to capture decisions, setbacks, lessons, observations, and progress as they happened

MEDIA & CONTENT PROJECTS

Southern Terrace Living | Founder

Las Vegas, NV | Current project, in development

- Building a hyperlocal media and community platform for the Southern Terrace neighborhood in southwest Las Vegas, designed personality-first and community-first

- Developing a monthly print publication, local business spotlights, and business-owner interviews, with each interview planned for video, photography, written storytelling, website content, and social posts
- Bringing the Summerlin Advice Givers guest model and the Learn For 2.0 repurposing workflow together: one conversation with a local business owner, many finished pieces of media
